Section 1 - Travelling to Canada

PRE-ARRIVAL CHECKLIST

- Upload your VISA into the OCAS portal so that we can send you your welcome email.
- Click here to read the latest information on arrival requirements to prepare for your travels.

- Arrange your health insurance if you are arriving before the 1st day of the month (i.e. January 1st, May 1st, or September 1st). It may be cheaper to arrange this short-term coverage from home.
- Sort out your accommodation plans for living in Thunder Bay- check the Welcome Newsletter sent to you to learn about your options.
- If your country has diplomatic representation in Canada (i.e. an embassy or other diplomatic offices), you may wish to register with them.

PACKING YOUR CARRY-ON

Important Documents

- Credit card with at least $1,000 limit - most transactions in Canada are done with credit cards.
- Winter clothing if you are arriving during winter months.
- Remember do not carry any liquid more than 100ml in your carry-on luggage.

IMMIGRATION

Once you get off the plane, follow the signs to “Canadian Immigration”. Make sure you have the following documents ready.

1. Your passport with visa, if applicable.
2. Letter of Acceptance (LoA) to Confederation College.
3. Proof of funds, i.e. a bank statement or letter from your sponsor.
4. IRCC Letter of Introduction.
5. Thunder Bay contact information.
6. Enrollment Letter

In Immigration, you will receive your Canadian study permit, providing you still meet all the applicable conditions. The immigration official may also ask to see an alternate piece of photo identification or ask about your plans while you are in Canada. If you are in Canada for long-term study, the office will print your study permit once your documents are reviewed, and attach it to your passport.

You must receive your study permit or have your passport stamped, dated and/or signed, before you leave the airport. Double-check your name and the expiry date. This is a very important step in your arrival to Canada, so ask questions if you are not sure what to do.

CANADIAN CUSTOMS

Once you have passed through Immigration and collected your bags, you must pass through customs. Make a list of all the goods you are bringing into Canada, including vehicles (for US students). If any of the items have a serial number (electronics), be sure to record those numbers. Mark all items on your list with approximate monetary values. The customs officer will ask you to declare what you have brought into Canada and will review the customs form you filled out on the plane.

DO NOT BRING ANY FOOD INTO CANADA

It is illegal to bring fresh fruits, vegetables, meat, seeds, eggs, dairy products, plants or animals into Canada. They will be confiscated. Review current Canadian customs regulations at

Canada Border Services Agency :

Section 2 - Canada

CULTURE AND NORMS

Depending on where you are from, Canada can be very different. Here are a few pointers to help you kick off your Canadian experience.

Greetings

When first meeting someone, Canadians usually greet each other with a handshake. Friends will sometimes hug each other. Be sure to make eye contact. When entering someone's home, it is customary to remove your shoes and leave them inside the door.

Addressing Someone New

Wait until invited before using someone's first name (given name). However, Canadians tend to move to a first-name basis rapidly. When writing your name in Canada, follow the First Name (given name), Last Name (family name) format. Generally, it is polite to address an older person you have not met before, as "Ms." or "Mr." (last name).

Personal Space

When in public or talking with someone, it is best to stand about an arm's length away. If you are in a loud area, it is fine to get closer in order to talk or hear the other person.

Canadians have a reputation for being overly polite, so if you bump into someone it is best to say 'sorry'. If someone holds a door open or moves aside for you, a smile and/or a "thank you" is appropriate. Holding the door for other people is a kind gesture that is always appreciated.

Being on Time

In Canada, being on time or 5 to 10 minutes early is expected. It is rude to be late, unless there are extenuating circumstances.

Hygiene

Confederation College has a no scent policy. This means that while you should shower every day and use deodorant, you should not wear strong perfume or cologne, and should never have a strong body odour.

Toilets

At public places, toilets are called washrooms, bathrooms, facilities or restrooms. Do not stand or squat on the toilets. Toilet paper is usually provided in all public toilets, and can be flushed down the toilet.

Tipping

A tip of 15-20% of the pre-tax bill is expected at restaurants. It is also common to tip when taking a taxi or getting a haircut: 10-15% is an appropriate amount. When getting a drink at a bar, leaving 15-20% tip for the bartender is usually expected.

Sexual Health

Canadians may be more or less sexually active than people in your home country. Do not feel pressured to do anything you are not comfortable with. If you want to talk to someone about this, make an appointment to talk with a counselor at (807) 475-6110 or visit the Health Clinic. If you decide to engage in sexual activity, be safe and responsible; if you are a male, always use a condom. Condoms can be purchased in pharmacies/drugstores or convenience stores. The campus health centre also provides condoms, free of charge. In Canada, it is a criminal offence to have any kind of sexual contact with someone who does not wish it. “No” means “no”, always.

CULTURE SHOCK

Culture shock refers to the overwhelming feeling people may get when they move to a new country and experience a new culture that is very different from their own. These feelings can last for some time as you get comfortable with your new life in Canada, but do not get discouraged. International students often experience culture shock in some form, and it will pass with time as you become more familiar with the Canadian culture.

Some tips to help you feel more comfortable are to stay active and make sure you talk to someone. Call your family and friends back home or talk to a counselor on campus, or with your new friends here. Remember that there is a large international community on campus who can relate to what you are going through.

Mental Health And Well-Being

Self-care matters and it is important to take care of your mental and physical health, as it can directly affect your personal and academic success. Use the following tips to help keep your life balanced, and healthy.

- Stay Active: Try going for a walk, joining a sports team, download a strength training app or regularly visit the Confederation College Wellness Centre (gym).

- Eat Healthy: Take a look at Canada's Food Guide and watch for cooking demonstrations at the College. YouTube is also a great source of ideas and helps in learning simple cooking techniques. www.food-guide.canada.ca
- Get Enough Sleep: Aim for 7 to 8 hours of sleep per night, consistently.
- Relax: Practice breathing exercises or yoga to relieve stress, improve blood circulation and elevate your mood.
- 'Me' Time: Make time to do things you enjoy or are good at doing is essential.
- Keep in Touch: Call or spend time with your friends or family. Meet new people by trying something new like a sport, activity or a volunteer experience
- Ask for help, if you need it: Talk to a counselor at Confederation College. Call Good2Talk at 1-866-925-5454 for free, professional and confidential support. Call Thunder Bay Crisis Line at (807) 346-8282.

CANADIAN LAWS

As a student in Canada, you must abide by all Canadian laws. IF YOU BREAK THE LAW, YOU MAY BE FINED OR SERVE TIME IN PRISON.

Committing an offence may result in deportation from Canada or inability to renew your temporary resident visa or study permit.

Working in Canada

As an international student, you are able to work during your studies. Visit cic.gc.ca to find out more.

You must file a Canadian income tax return every year (at the end of April). Determine your residency status to know how you will be taxed in Canada. For more information, visit: cra-arc.gc.ca/internationalstudents.

You will need a Social Insurance Number (SIN) in order to work in Canada. For more information on how to apply for a SIN, visit: servicecanada.gc.ca/eng/sc/sin/index.html

Consent

Under the Criminal Code of Canada (Section 273.1) consent is the voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity. Sexual activity includes a range of activities, ranging from sexual touching (e.g. kissing) to sexual intercourse. There must be an understandable exchange of words between both parties that clearly indicates a willingness and agreement to participate in sexual activity.

Consent must be:

- Informed, freely given, active and ongoing
- Never assumed. Silence or the absence of 'no' does not mean yes.

Consent:

- Cannot be given by someone who is under the influence of drugs, alcohol or unconscious.
- Can be revoked at any time.
- Cannot be obtained by threatening the other person.

Age of Sexual Consent

The age of consent for sexual activity in Canada is 16 years. However, the age of consent is 18 years where the sexual activity "exploits" a young person.

IN CANADA, IT IS AGAINST THE LAW to engage in sexual activity with someone "under age" (under 16 years) or with a minor.

Sexual activity without the consent of the other person is a crime, regardless of the age of that person and is deemed to be sexual assault. Penalties under the Criminal Code of Canada for these types of offences are substantial. They also may impact your immigration status and could result in prosecution, incarceration, and/or deportation from Canada. Sexual violence and harassment are not tolerated at Confederation College. NOTE: The Criminal Code of Canada applies to all individuals residing in Canada, regardless of their nationality.

Harassment

Sexual, verbal and physical harassment are forms of discrimination and are serious crimes in Canada. Harassment occurs when someone makes unwanted, demeaning or derogatory comments, threats, or jokes about another person's age, religion, race, disability, gender, age, etc. Unwanted physical contact is also considered harassment. If you think you are a victim of any form of harassment, report it immediately to College security or the police.

Racism

Canada is known to be a welcoming and multicultural country, yet sadly, the fact remains that racism happens everywhere, including in Canada. If you or anyone you know experiences racism or discrimination, please contact the counsellors at the Student Success Centre for support. You can also fill out this form to file a formal complaint.

confederationcollege.ca/human-resources-services/human-rights-decolonization/make-racism-complaint

Cannabis

Cannabis was legalized in Canada in October 2018. However, there are rules and regulations regarding its use. You must be of legal age (19 years old in Ontario) to buy, possess or use cannabis. It is a serious criminal offence to drive while impaired by cannabis or any other drug. Confederation College does not permit the possession, use, consumption, sale, or distribution of cannabis products on College property. It is prohibited. Read more about laws and regulations surrounding cannabis here: justice.gc.ca/eng/cj-jp/cannabis/

Illegal Drugs

Street drugs such as cocaine/crack, ecstasy, heroin, methamphetamine, ketamine, magic mushrooms, GHB, or LSD are illegal in Canada. Possession or sale of them, or prescription drugs prescribed to you or others, is a criminal offence.

Alcohol

The legal drinking age in Ontario is 19 years old. When purchasing alcohol or entering a bar, government- issued photo identification showing proof of age is required, even if you don't plan to drink.

Drinking and driving is illegal in Canada and is a serious offense. If you drink and drive, you can lose your license or go to jail. Do not get into a car with a driver who has been drinking; call a taxi service or a sober friend to drive you home instead.

It is also illegal to drink on the streets and to be intoxicated in public. It is illegal to have an open bottle of alcohol inside a vehicle when driving or with you when walking. If caught doing this, you will be fined.

For some international students, easy access to alcohol has resulted in over-indulging, followed by risky behaviours, poor decision-making, and encounters with police. Drink responsibly and avoid these scenarios.

Tobacco

It is illegal to sell or give cigarettes to individuals under 19 years of age. It is also prohibited under the law to smoke indoors in public places, restaurants and bars.

SCAMS AND FRAUD

Scams are increasingly common in Canada. Be cautious when someone contacts you—especially if they request personal information or money. Common scams include threats of deportation, extortion (demanding money or gift cards), and impersonating officials. Never share personal details - like your Social Insurance Number (SIN), passport, or credit card number - over the phone. If threatened, contact College Security immediately.

Immigration Scams

IRCC will never call to demand payment or threaten deportation. They won't ask for personal details you've already submitted. If someone claims you'll be arrested, lose your visa, or be deported unless you pay or share information—it's a scam. Hang up and ignore.

Job Scams

Watch out for fake job offers. Red flags include:

- No interview
- Unusually high pay or work-from-home promises
- Cheques or money sent before work is done

Tax Scams (CRA)

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) won't email or call asking for banking info or threatening police action. If unsure, don't respond—call 1-800-959-8281 to verify. CRA won't contact you if you haven't worked or filed taxes in Canada.

Banking Scams

Your bank will never ask for account info by phone, text, or email. Only share info via your official banking app, verified phone number, or in person.

Blackmail/Extortion

If you suspect a scam, don't engage. Hang up, block the number, and report it to the Anti-Fraud Centre (1-888-495-8501) or Thunder Bay Police (807-684-1200).

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Classroom Etiquette

As you settle into your new life as a student in Canada, it is helpful to know what is expected in the classroom. Below is a list of generally accepted classroom behaviours and norms:

- You are expected to arrive on time to class. It is rude to be late.
- If you must leave the classroom early, do so as quietly as possible. Have a valid reason for leaving early and tell your instructor before the class begins. It is less disruptive to leave during a class break.
- Your instructor will tell you how to address them on the first day of class. This may be by their first name or a more formal title like Mr./Mrs./Ms. In general, Canadian instructors are not used to being called “teacher”, “ma’am” or “sir”.
- Raise a hand to ask questions or make comments while the instructor is lecturing.
- Drinking water or coffee/tea is usually acceptable in class. Eating in class is often considered rude. Wait for a break to eat.
- Turn off your cell phone in class. If you must answer an emergency call, leave the classroom quietly so you do not disturb the class. Tell your instructor before class if you are expecting a call that you will have to answer. IT IS VERY RUDE TO SPEAK ON YOUR PHONE WHILE CLASS IS IN SESSION.
- Talking to classmates while the instructor is talking is considered disrespectful and disruptive.

- Speaking a language other than English is considered very disrespectful to other students & your teacher.
- You are expected to ask for help when you need it. Faculty prefer if students do so, rather than sit in silence & not understand what is going on.
- If your instructor is speaking too quickly, ask questions. Compare notes with others to clarify certain points.

Cheating & Plagiarism

Copying someone else’s work on a test is cheating. In papers, reports, or projects, using someone else’s words, ideas, or work—including content generated by artificial intelligence (AI)—as though they were your own, without giving credit, is called “plagiarism.” Both cheating and plagiarism are treated very seriously by all colleges and universities in Canada. You will receive a zero and may face other academic penalties if you have cheated or plagiarized any portion of an assignment or test. Repeated offences may result in a failing grade, or expulsion from the college.

To avoid plagiarism, cite your sources whenever you use another person’s idea, opinion, theory, or other information that is not common knowledge. This includes quotations or paraphrased material that has not been properly acknowledged. If you are unsure about how to cite your research, contact the library staff for assistance. The library regularly offers workshops on how to research and cite sources.

Section 4 – Life in Thunder Bay

THE CITY OF THUNDER BAY

Welcome to Thunder Bay, Ontario Canada! Thunder Bay has a reputation as one of Canada's best outdoor cities with spectacular scenery, clean air, the world's largest fresh water lake and endless natural beauty. At the same time, residents in Thunder Bay have convenient access to a wide variety of great restaurants, shops and entertainment options.

Across all four seasons, the region offers plenty of opportunities to experience Canada's great outdoors from geology, to canoeing, sailing, fishing in all seasons, hiking, skiing, snowboarding, cycling and much more. Adventure abounds under blue skies in a city with more hours of sunshine than most others in Canada!

A little bit about the city:

- The name "Thunder Bay" was first created by settlers who, when entering the bay during a storm noticed that the thunder was amplified by the surrounding mountains.
- Thunder Bay has a population of about 125,000, making it the largest city in Northwestern Ontario.
- Located on the north shore of Lake Superior and on the Canadian shield. Lake Superior is the largest freshwater lake by surface area and third largest by volume in the world; it is also one of the five Great Lakes of North America.
- Northwestern Ontario has a long history of Indigenous and Metis settlement. The Fort William First Nation (Ojibwa) are the first peoples of this territory, who are signatory to the Robinson-Superior Treaty of 1850.

WEATHER

Dressing for the Weather

The key to staying comfortable in any weather is to dress in layers. For example, you might wear an undershirt, a long-sleeved shirt, a sweater or sweatshirt, and a jacket or coat. Layering allows you to add or remove clothing as temperatures change throughout the day. Check daily weather reports so you can dress appropriately—whether it's hot, cold, rainy, or windy.

In winter, protect yourself from frostbite and hypothermia by wearing a hat, mitts, face covering, and possibly double socks. In warmer months, lighter layers and sun protection like a hat or sunglasses are helpful.

All buildings are temperature-controlled, so dressing in layers lets you easily adjust to indoor and outdoor conditions.

Frostbite occurs when the cold penetrates the skin so deeply that it begins to damage skin tissue. Blood vessels constrict to maintain the body temperature, restricting blood flow to certain body parts. This can be very painful.

Hypothermia is a serious, potentially life-threatening condition that occurs when the body's core temperature drops to a dangerous low level. Being outside for extended periods without proper protective clothing puts you at risk.

Spring (April and May)

Spring is the time of year when the snow melts and temperatures range between -5°C and $+15^{\circ}\text{C}$. Since it is wet and damp, waterproofing is important. The weather can be a bit unpredictable, so layering clothes is recommended.

Summer (June to August)

Summer days are long and warm with temperatures between 22°C and 32°C . Evenings can get cool enough to require a light jacket.

Fall/Autumn (September to November)

Fall is a beautiful time of year as the leaves change from green to orange, red and yellow. Average temperatures range between -5°C and $+18^{\circ}\text{C}$.

Winter (December to March)

Winter is spectacular in Thunder Bay, with blue skies, sunshine and lots of snow. It is picture perfect, but you must dress for the cold. Average daily temperatures are -15°C ; sometimes it gets a lot colder.
