Overview

Come Join Our 1-Year Program. Onajigawin Indigenous Services Program: Preparing the Next Generation of Helpers with a Focus on Cultural Safety.

Are you truly dedicated to upholding the richness of cultural diversity? Do you hold a deep desire for social justice, particularly when it comes to Indigenous children, families, and communities? Can you reliably demonstrate integrity, honesty, genuineness, and objectivity in all your actions? Are you enthusiastic about equipping yourself with a toolkit centered around prevention and well-being, ready to support those you will accompany as a future aid?

If your heart is set on a career that empowers you to forge a lasting and positive impact on the lives of families, individuals, and communities most in need of transformative change, your search ends here – this program is tailored for you!

At Onajigawin Indigenous Services, we are rooted in the wisdom of Indigenous Knowledge and Pedagogy, navigating the educational landscape with a decolonized perspective in both curriculum and assessment.

Top Highlights

- Graduates are eligible to become Registered Social Services Workers with the Ontario College of Social Work and Social Services Workers
- Prepare for positions in a variety of human service/helper settings including child welfare agencies, women’s shelters, urban Indigenous organizations and on-reserve services
- Field placements provide hands-on experience working with Indigenous and non-Indigenous organizations
- Also offered as an accelerated program for those with a college diploma or university degree in a related field

Employment Opportunities

Graduates of this program are in high demand in both Indigenous and non-Indigenous organizations with a focus on strengthening and empowering Indigenous families and children, and working to build healthy communities. These positions may include child welfare, youth outreach, prevention and health promotion, domestic violence intervention, community development, substance abuse treatment, policy, governance, advocacy and family healing programs.
